12 Questions before you order

The final page is a printable shopping and event checklist. Product purchases are separate from makeup-service bookings.

A Dior beauty routine should make getting ready easier: clean skin, comfortable hydration, dependable sun protection, makeup that suits your face, and a fragrance you enjoy wearing. If you are shopping in Casablanca, the difficult part is often knowing which product does which job, which version to order, and whether a Moroccan price means the item is actually available.

This guide takes you through a complete routine, from your morning cleanser to evening makeup removal, with Dior options for face, eyes, lips, body, hair fragrance and nails. Start with the steps you need; the rest are choices. You do not need every Dior product, every serum, or a different cream for every occasion. A smaller collection that you use consistently is more practical than a crowded shelf of overlapping products.

Prices and online availability checked on 12 November 2026. Amounts below are Moroccan dirhams, also written MAD, DH or DHS. A listed price is not a confirmed shop quote or a promise of stock. Dior catalogue prices were checked directly; Faces prices came from indexed retailer listings because direct access was blocked. Shade availability varies. Links go to the named seller, with no affiliate tracking added. Official product images come from Dior Morocco and link to the original product listings. This is an independent buying guide, not a Dior partnership or a claim that Lamyaa has personally tested every item.

Your Dior routine at a glance

For the morning, think in this order: cleanse as needed, apply a suitable moisturiser, use sunscreen, then add makeup if you want it. A serum can sit between cleansing and moisturiser when you have a specific reason to use one. Primer, foundation, concealer, powder, blush, eye makeup and lipstick belong to the makeup stage, not the skincare stage. Perfumed body milk and hair mist are separate finishing touches.

For the evening, remove makeup with a product appropriate to what you wore, cleanse gently, and moisturise. Waterproof mascara may need a dedicated eye makeup remover. A face cleanser and an eye remover can therefore have different jobs, whereas buying three different face cleansers at once usually adds little convenience. Keep products that already suit your skin while introducing a new purchase gradually.

The American Academy of Dermatology's application-order guidance places cleansing first, treatment next when needed, moisturiser or sunscreen after that, and makeup last. Its basic skincare advice also makes a useful point for luxury shoppers: gentle cleansing, moisturising and sun protection are the foundation. More expensive or more numerous products do not automatically make a better routine.

Plan around a real Casablanca day. An office morning in Gauthier, lunch outside in Anfa, and an evening celebration do not require three separate makeup bags. They do require thinking ahead about daylight, your finish, and the few things you will carry. Keep sunscreen accessible, choose a lip product you can reapply easily, and take a small powder compact only if you actually use one.

The six Dior products from the original list

These six items cover cleansing, face and body sun protection, and fragrance layering. They are not a complete colour-makeup kit. The distinctions matter when you are ordering online: the face sunscreen and body sunscreen have different sizes, while the newer Blooming Bouquet hair mist is not interchangeable with every bottle labelled Miss Dior Hair Mist.

1. Dior Solar La Crème Protectrice Visage SPF 50 - 50 ml

This is the face-sunscreen step. Apply it after skincare and before makeup, following the directions on the packaging. It is relevant to ordinary outdoor errands as well as seaside lunches and wedding photographs. Do not mix it into foundation to save a step, and do not treat the SPF number as a promise that one application will last all day.

Faces Morocco lists the 50 ml face cream from 487 MAD. That local listing is more useful than converting a European price and adding an assumed import margin. Confirm stock before travelling to a counter. Sunscreen supports sun protection; it does not guarantee that foundation will resist heat, sweat or rubbing.

2. Dior Solar La Crème Protectrice SPF 50 for body - 150 ml

The larger body tube belongs in your outdoor bag for exposed shoulders, arms and legs. Think about your actual outfit: a strapless dress, open neckline or cropped sleeves can leave areas uncovered even when you are not going to the beach. Apply generously as directed before exposure and keep it available for reapplication.

Dior Morocco lists the 150 ml version at 679 MAD, unavailable at the check. Dior describes a finish without white traces, but that is the brand's product description, not a guarantee on every skin tone or garment. Let it settle before dressing and check the label for water-resistance instructions. Body sunscreen is different from a scented body lotion, even when both feel moisturising.

3. La Mousse OFF/ON foaming cleanser

La Mousse OFF/ON is a rinse-off facial cleanser, useful when you want a cleansing step before skincare or after removing makeup. Work it with water as directed and rinse thoroughly. A pleasant foam is not a reason to scrub harder or repeat the wash until your face feels tight. Comfort after cleansing is a more useful practical check.

The current Moroccan listing is 646 MAD and unavailable. The original list identified a 150 ml tube; because the current catalogue variant does not state its size, confirm the quantity on the seller's pack before comparing prices. Do not assume this face wash alone is the best way to remove every waterproof mascara. Keep eye-specific removal separate where the product directions call for it.

4. Miss Dior Blooming Bouquet Hair Mist - 30 ml

This is a finishing fragrance for hair, rather than shampoo, heat protection or a treatment for damage. Use according to the bottle directions as part of your getting-ready routine. If someone is styling your hair for a wedding, discuss scented finishing products beforehand so you do not add an unexpected product after the hairstyle is complete.

The Moroccan listing is 792 MAD and unavailable. Dior identifies this specific Blooming Bouquet formula as alcohol-free. That supports the claim for this version, not for all hair perfumes. The older Miss Dior Hair Mist has a separate Moroccan listing at 623 MAD. Match the full name and bottle rather than ordering whichever listing has the shortest title.

5. Miss Dior Comforting Body Milk with Rose Wax - 175 ml

This is the body-moisturising and scent-layering step. Apply after your shower in the way directed on the pack and allow it to absorb before dressing. It makes sense if you enjoy the Miss Dior scent and want a lotion with that character. If you prefer unscented body care, you can use a different moisturiser and keep perfume as your only scented layer.

The Moroccan Dior page lists 725 MAD for 175 ml, unavailable at the check. This replaces the draft's estimated local price. Body milk does not take the place of sunscreen on exposed skin. It is also unnecessary to buy a matching shower gel, lotion, deodorant, mist and perfume all at once; begin with the scented product you are most likely to finish.

6. Miss Dior Perfumed Deodorant - 100 ml

Choose this for its deodorant role and Miss Dior fragrance, following the directions for application. Do not assume that a perfumed deodorant provides antiperspirant performance: look for an explicit sweat-control claim on the exact product if that is what you need. Fragrance, odour control and managing perspiration are different purchasing priorities.

Dior Morocco lists it at 623 MAD and unavailable; the Faces Morocco deodorant category also shows a Miss Dior listing at 623 MAD. The second link is a category page, not a checked reservation. Ask the seller to confirm the 100 ml bottle and availability before paying or arranging collection.

Build the skincare part around your skin

Makeup removal: L'Eau Démaquillante, Le Lait Démaquillant or Prestige balm

Dior's micellar water and cleansing milk offer different textures for removing face makeup. The Moroccan catalogue lists L'Eau Démaquillante 200 ml and Le Lait Démaquillant 200 ml at 487 MAD each, both unavailable when checked. Choose the texture you find easy to use, then follow the instructions rather than combining both simply because they belong to the same brand.

For someone who prefers a balm format, Dior Prestige Le Baume Démaquillant is another option, listed at 1,245 MAD with an available variant. The higher price is a purchasing choice, not proof that it is necessary for effective removal. Check the permitted application areas and rinsing instructions. Keep the product away from areas excluded by its label.

Eye and lip removal: Le Démaquillant Yeux et Lèvres

A dedicated eye-and-lip remover is worth considering if your routine includes resistant mascara, eyeliner or long-wear lip colour. Dior's two-phase remover is listed at 442 MAD for 125 ml, unavailable. Use it as directed and avoid pulling at lashes or rubbing repeatedly. Buying dramatic eye makeup without a workable removal plan makes the evening routine unnecessarily difficult.

Moisturiser: choose one Hydra Life texture

The current Moroccan catalogue offers Hydra Life Crème Sorbet Fraîcheur and Hydra Life Intense Sorbet Crème, each at 804 MAD for 50 ml, with available variants at the check. Dior positions the first for normal to combination skin and the second for normal to dry skin. These are useful starting descriptions; how the texture feels on your own skin still matters.

For a makeup morning, start with the amount directed and allow it to settle before sunscreen and foundation. If your base repeatedly rolls into small flakes, review the number of layers and how you apply them before adding another primer. Do not buy an old Hydra Life listing solely because its price is lower: the catalogue also contains older names and sizes, so compare the exact formula.

Optional treatment: Dior Capture Le Sérum and Soft Creme

Capture belongs in the optional treatment part of the routine. The Moroccan listing starts at 1,641 MAD for the 30 ml serum, but that size was unavailable; the 50 ml variant was listed at 2,206 MAD and available. Capture Soft Creme is listed at 1,641 MAD for 50 ml with an available variant. They are separate purchases and do not need to be bought together.

Decide what you want to improve before paying for a treatment product. If you are already happy with your moisturiser, there is no practical requirement to replace it to match a serum. The AAD recommends focusing on a main skin concern rather than adding several anti-ageing products at once. Brand performance claims should not become promises about your individual results.

Eye cream, masks and premium skincare

Dior Capture Crème Regard, Prestige eye products and face masks are additional options, not missing essentials in an otherwise comfortable routine. An eye cream can be a texture preference; a mask can be an occasional ritual. Neither should be bought simply because a long routine seems more complete. Check the directions and avoid introducing several unfamiliar products immediately before an important event.

If your skin becomes persistently irritated, the solution is not to keep adding luxury products over the problem. Stop using a product that causes a reaction and seek appropriate professional advice. For ordinary shopping, keep a short record of what you bought, when you started it, and whether it fits your routine. That is more useful than keeping a drawer full of nearly identical jars.

SPF in Casablanca: make room for reapplication

Apply sunscreen after skincare and beneath makeup. The AAD explains that makeup with SPF is not a convenient substitute for a proper sunscreen routine. Using a tiny amount of SPF foundation for coverage does not establish that you have applied the sunscreen amount needed for its labelled protection.

For time outdoors, the AAD recommends broad-spectrum, water-resistant SPF 30 or higher, together with shade and protective clothing. Reapply approximately every two hours outdoors, and after swimming or sweating as directed. Check the precise Dior Solar label for water resistance; do not infer it from the name, price or SPF number.

For a wedding, discuss outdoor photography and touch-ups during the trial. It is easier to plan a protected break and a makeup refresh than to discover midway through the day that your sunscreen is at home. For a beach outing at Aïn Diab or Dar Bouazza, take enough product for exposed areas and repeat applications. A small face tube and a larger body tube serve different practical needs.

If Dior Solar is unavailable, do not postpone sun protection while waiting for a luxury restock. Choose a suitable available sunscreen. Fragrance preference and packaging are secondary to a product you can apply correctly and replenish. Keep sunscreen out of a hot parked car, and check its expiry before packing an older bottle for a weekend away.

Dior complexion makeup: coverage, concealer and finish

Choose one foundation, then match the shade

Dior Forever Skin Glow and Dior Forever Skin Wear are listed at 667 MAD in the Moroccan catalogue. Hydra Nude is listed at 668 MAD. Availability differs by shade, so a product page being active does not mean your shade can be ordered. Decide whether you want a more luminous appearance or a different coverage-and-finish balance, then test the actual formula you intend to purchase.

For colour matching, compare a small amount along the jaw and look at the result in daylight. Check the transition to the neck and any chest area your outfit will reveal. A shade that looks attractive on a phone screen can be wrong in person. Do not assume that a number in one Dior foundation is an exact match in another formula or an older bottle.

Start with a light application and add coverage where you want it. Heavy coverage everywhere is not automatically better for photographs. Take a daylight photo and check how the base looks after a few hours of normal activity. Your own wear test gives more relevant information than repeating a brand's maximum-wear claim as a guarantee for Casablanca weather or a wedding schedule.

Concealer: Dior Forever Skin Correct

Forever Skin Correct is listed at 453 MAD, with all listed shades unavailable at the check. It is an option for targeted coverage around areas where foundation alone does not give the finish you want. Use a small amount first and blend the edges. For covering a spot, a close skin match is usually more useful than automatically choosing the lightest possible shade.

If you want a brighter under-eye look, test that separately from spot coverage. One shade may not do both jobs equally well. You can also wear concealer without a full face of foundation when that suits your morning. A complete routine should allow that simpler option rather than making every step dependent on buying the next product.

Primer: Dior Forever Velvet Veil

Dior Forever Velvet Veil is listed at 566 MAD, unavailable at the check. It is an optional primer intended for a matte finish. Try your skincare, sunscreen and foundation together first. If you already like the result, adding a primer may be unnecessary. If you want one, test a small amount where it is useful instead of applying more than you need over the whole face.

Powder and setting spray

Powder can be a targeted finishing step rather than a full-face requirement. Compare Dior Forever Nude Matte Filter with the brand's other powder formats and choose a shade and texture suited to the finish you want. Apply lightly, check the result in daylight, and carry a compact only if you expect to use it. Repeatedly adding powder without checking the surface can make a touch-up look heavier.

Dior Forever Perfect Fix face mist is listed at 532 MAD, unavailable. It is a makeup-setting product, not sunscreen and not a promise of an untouched face until midnight. Follow the spray directions and avoid using it as a substitute for testing your base. The simplest useful event kit may be your lip colour, tissues and a small powder rather than a second full makeup collection.

Cheeks, eyes and brows: add definition selectively

Blush, bronzer and highlighter

Dior Backstage Rosy Glow is listed at 487 MAD, while Rosy Glow Stick is listed at 520 MAD. These give you a choice of format. Pick a colour you enjoy on your skin and build it gradually. A shade name or a popular online swatch does not tell you exactly how strong the colour will appear over your foundation.

Dior Forever Nude Bronze and Forever Skin Bronze offer powder and stick routes to a bronzed effect. You do not need both. Think about whether you prefer applying creams before powder or finishing with a powder brush. Bronzer adds cosmetic colour; it has no role as sun protection and should not change how you use SPF.

For highlight, consider Forever Glow Luminizer or the Backstage Glow Maximizer Palette. Start with the area you want to catch light rather than covering the whole face. Check the effect under the lighting you will actually use. A reflective finish can look different in direct daylight, an office bathroom mirror and flash photographs, so a quick test is worth more than guessing from the pan.

Eyeshadow and liner

A small eyeshadow selection is enough for many routines: a shade close to your skin, a medium tone for definition, and a deeper colour if you want an evening look. Compare the Dior Morocco eye range and Backstage Eye Palette for combinations you will genuinely wear. Do not buy several palettes because each contains one appealing shade. For a wedding outfit, bring a fabric photo to help explain the overall colour direction.

Diorshow Liquid Liner is listed at 453 MAD, with available variants at the check. Choose the colour and applicator you find manageable. A narrow line close to the lashes can be easier to repeat on a workday than a dramatic wing. If you prefer a pencil, compare the available Diorshow pencil listings and their exact shades rather than assuming every format is equivalent.

Mascara and brows

Choose mascara according to the effect you want and the removal routine you are willing to maintain. Diorshow Overvolume and Iconic Overcurl are different options; waterproof versions should be identified explicitly on the product page. For an emotional celebration or a long outdoor schedule, test your chosen version before the event rather than opening a new tube for the first time that morning.

Brows can stay simple. Brush them into place, then decide whether you want a pencil, tinted gel or no additional product. The Diorshow On Set Brow listing is a direct enquiry route; confirm your shade and current stock. The goal is a result you can repeat. A full Dior routine does not require turning a naturally defined brow into a complicated daily project.

Lips: balm, oil, gloss or lipstick

Dior Addict Lip Glow, Lip Glow Oil, Lip Glow Butter and Lip Maximizer are listed at 509 MAD in the Moroccan catalogue, with different shade availability. These overlap in how they fit a daily routine: you can choose a comfortable tinted balm, a shiny oil-style finish, a buttery gloss-style product, or a plumping gloss. Buying all four is not necessary to have cared-for, polished-looking lips.

Lip Glow is a useful format to compare if you want easy colour without a precise application. Lip Glow Oil suits someone who actively wants a glossy finish. Lip Glow Butter is another texture choice, while Lip Maximizer belongs in the gloss-and-plumping category. Read the exact formula and shade description; a clear-looking product photograph does not mean every variant is colourless.

For a more defined look, compare Rouge Dior lipstick formats and Rouge Dior On Stage with a liner that suits your chosen shade. Test how the colour looks with your foundation and outfit. For a meal or a wedding, the most practical lip choice is one you are comfortable touching up, rather than a colour you admire but never feel confident applying yourself.

Pack the exact shade you used, not a vaguely similar backup. If you prefer a clean lip outline, carry the matching liner or a small suitable brush. Blot and reassess before adding more product. Do not treat any of these ordinary lip colours as sun protection unless the exact product has a stated SPF suitable for that purpose.

Body care, fragrance, hands and nails

Choose a fragrance family before layering

Miss Dior Blooming Bouquet, Miss Dior Eau de Parfum and Miss Dior Parfum are distinct fragrances. A similar name is not a reason to assume the smell or strength is identical. Try the fragrance you intend to buy and give yourself time to decide. For a gift, the recipient's exact favourite is often a safer choice than the version with the prettiest current packaging.

You can build around a single perfume, then add the matching body milk or hair mist if you enjoy the ritual. You can also wear perfume over an unscented moisturiser. Layering is optional. For a close indoor setting, start with a restrained application and assess it rather than using every matching scented product heavily at once.

Shower gel, body milk and hair oil

The Miss Dior rosewater shower gel is listed at 634 MAD, unavailable at the check. It is a rinse-off body-cleansing product, while the body milk is a leave-on moisturising product. They have different roles. If you only want one luxurious scented step, a body milk or perfume may fit your preferences better than replacing every product in the shower.

Miss Dior Hair Oil is listed at 792 MAD for 30 ml, with an available variant. It is separate from the hair mist. Follow the instructions for quantity and application, especially if your hair is fine or already styled. Do not assume it replaces shampoo, conditioner, a heat protector or a product recommended for a particular scalp concern.

Hands, cuticles and Dior nail colour

Dior Le Baume is listed at 657 MAD for 50 ml, unavailable at the check, and is presented as a multipurpose care option for hands, lips and body. It can make sense if you like one portable format. It does not need to be added on top of a hand cream that already meets your needs. Keep hand care simple enough to use after washing and before bed.

For a Dior manicure, look for the current Dior Vernis colour, an appropriate base coat and top coat, and the brand's nail-care options such as Crème Abricot where available. The Moroccan nail collection showed no products in this check, so use the Dior Morocco nail collection or a local counter enquiry instead of relying on an invented local price. Confirm the exact reference before ordering.

Choose a nail colour that works with the clothes and jewellery you actually wear. For a wedding, decide early enough to test the shade against your outfit. A neutral manicure, a red manicure and a detailed design require different time and maintenance. A complete routine can include nail care without requiring a new polish for every event.

Where to buy Dior in Casablanca and online in Morocco

Dior Morocco: start with the direct product links throughout this guide. They make it easier to compare the exact local name, size, shade and displayed price. The site's delivery page says it delivers throughout Morocco, with an estimated two-to-five-day window after confirmation and no minimum for free delivery. Its published policy contains older wording, so confirm the current checkout terms and delivery estimate before relying on them for an event.

Faces Morocco: the verified Dior Solar face SPF 50 listing is a useful alternative when the Dior shop does not show the face tube. The deodorant category gives another route for Miss Dior. These links establish listings, not a guarantee that a Casablanca counter has reserved a bottle.

Palmarosa: the Dior brand page is another Moroccan comparison route, especially for fragrance. It appeared in search results, but the site returned a temporary server error during our direct check; confirm it is working before ordering. Compare the concentration and bottle size as well as the headline price. A discounted 50 ml perfume and a full-price 100 ml bottle are not like-for-like offers. Confirm delivery costs and timing in the basket because promotions and published thresholds can change.

Parfumerie La Colombe: its Dior brand page is another Casablanca retailer enquiry route. Ask for the full product reference and stock confirmation. No product-specific price from this retailer is asserted here. A shop carrying Dior fragrance should not be assumed to carry every Dior foundation shade, skincare texture or nail product.

International delivery: SweetCare's Morocco-facing Dior results provide an additional comparison route. Treat this separately from local Casablanca shelf stock: check dispatch location, delivery charges, possible import costs and the final checkout total. A MAD display alone does not establish that an item is held in Morocco or can arrive the next day.

Physical shopping: use Dior's beauty-store information or contact the seller before making a journey. The Dior Casablanca fashion-store locator identifies a couture location at Morocco Mall; that listing by itself does not establish a full beauty counter. Ask specifically for beauty, the exact product and the shade you need.

These are sourced buying or enquiry routes, not a claim to list every reseller in Casablanca. Before paying, confirm the full product name, volume, shade, sealed condition, invoice, delivery address and return terms. Keep the order confirmation. If a listing is out of stock, use a restock enquiry or another verified seller rather than assuming that an active page means immediate dispatch.

Three practical shopping plans

A simple everyday routine

Start with a cleanser that suits you, one moisturiser and suitable sunscreen. Add a single lip product if you want colour, then mascara or concealer only if you use them. This gives you a manageable morning without making every day feel like preparation for a photoshoot. Buy replacements for the steps you already follow before buying additional treatments.

Using the listed prices, La Mousse OFF/ON at 646 MAD, Hydra Life moisturiser at 804 MAD and the Faces face sunscreen at 487 MAD total 1,937 MAD before any delivery charges. This is an illustrative list-price basket, not an available bundle: the cleanser was unavailable at Dior and the sunscreen's current stock requires confirmation. You can keep an existing suitable cleanser instead.

A polished workday makeup routine

Add one well-matched foundation or concealer, a blush if you enjoy it, and one comfortable lip colour. Choose powder only where you want it. Keep a small pouch with the products you truly touch up, rather than carrying every morning step. On a rushed day, targeted concealer and lip colour can be a useful alternative to a full base.

For an illustrative makeup-only basket, a 667 MAD foundation, 453 MAD concealer, 487 MAD blush and 509 MAD lip product total 2,116 MAD. This excludes skincare, tools and delivery, and it does not guarantee the relevant shades are available. If you only wear makeup occasionally, you may prefer fewer items and more time spent getting the shade right.

A wedding or special-event routine

Use a trial to decide the finish, coverage, eye definition and lip colour together. Bring your usual skincare and sunscreen details, reference photographs, outfit colours and the day's schedule. Tell the artist about outdoor photography, travel between locations and any products you already know do not suit you. A plan built around those details is more useful than buying a complete new kit immediately before the event.

Keep a practical touch-up pouch: the agreed lip shade, tissues, any selected powder, and sunscreen for the outdoor plan. Decide who will carry it. Test the complete combination beforehand and avoid promising yourself a fixed number of untouched hours. Wear depends on application, skin, weather and activity. Buying Dior does not remove the need for a realistic schedule and occasional touch-ups.

End the day well and keep the kit usable

Put makeup removal where you can reach it before you are tired. Remove resistant eye or lip colour with the appropriate product, cleanse gently, and apply a suitable moisturiser. You do not need to recreate the morning routine in reverse or use every treatment you own. A consistent evening routine is easier to maintain when there are only a few clear steps.

Keep caps closed, avoid direct sunlight and excessive heat, and note when you open products. The AAD's guidance on replacing makeup and sunscreen recommends clean tools, proper storage and attention to changes in smell, colour or texture. Follow expiry and period-after-opening information on the actual packaging rather than assuming a luxury product lasts indefinitely.

Review your collection before making another order. If you already have an unopened body lotion, finish it before adding a second fragrance family unless you want the variety. If a foundation shade was wrong, record why before buying another. The best Dior routine for you is the one whose products have clear jobs, whose colours suit you, and whose replacement costs fit comfortably into your budget.

Questions before you order

Do I need a complete Dior routine?

No. This guide covers the available steps so you can choose. You can combine a Dior lip colour or fragrance with skincare you already trust. Cleanser, moisturiser and sunscreen do not need matching logos. Keep the products that work for you and add only what fills a real gap.

Are these confirmed Casablanca shop prices?

They are displayed Moroccan online prices observed on the date shown, not telephone quotes or reserved counter stock. Each link identifies the seller. The cards distinguish available variants from unavailable listings. A final price, delivery fee and shade must be confirmed before checkout, particularly for an urgent purchase.

Can I buy everything in one order?

Probably not from the checked Dior catalogue: several core products were marked unavailable, and makeup availability varies by shade. Build the routine around what you need first. It is better to wait for an optional fragrance accessory than to substitute the wrong foundation colour simply to complete a single basket.

Can Lamyaa help with the makeup choices?

For a personal makeup appointment, use Lamyaa's booking page or WhatsApp to discuss the occasion, date and desired look. Ask about a trial if you are planning bridal makeup. An enquiry is not a confirmed appointment until it has been acknowledged. Product purchases are made with the linked retailers, separately from booking a makeup service.

Your shopping & event checklist

Make this page your own. Write the exact reference rather than just the brand name.

Product / job	Size / shade	Budget / seller	Confirmed?

Before paying: confirm the full name, size, shade, final cost, stock, delivery date and return terms.

For a trial: bring outfit colours, reference photos, your usual skincare/SPF details and the event schedule.

For the day: agree on outdoor sun protection, touch-ups, the lip shade and who carries the pouch.

Booking enquiry: lamyaaaissi.com/book/ or WhatsApp +212 635 418509. Wait for acknowledgement before treating a date as confirmed.
